About me

Raised in the vibrant cultural hub of Kannur, I've had a lifelong passion for art and design. With over 13+ years of experience in product company & advertising agencies, I specialize in crafting compelling brand identities—from building new brands from the ground up to revitalizing established ones.

My design philosophy is rooted in striking a balance between bold elegance and minimalist impact. While I appreciate the power of color, I believe in the timeless strength and narrative potential of a well-crafted grayscale image.
